Volume 24 No 6

Snippets is our primary means of keeping members informed and up to date. As such, it is our most important means of communication.

With no editor, we are at risk of losing Snippets.

For three years, loyal volunteer Pat Smith was Snippets Editor before Chenoa Nichol took over this year and enthusiastically introduced a new look. Ill health now prevents Chenoa from continuing and Allana, our immediate past-President, has been standing in rather than see our members miss an issue. Unfortunately, she cannot continue to do so.

There is now an urgent need for someone who can collate information provided by groups and members and arrange for publication in this format.

We need someone organised and accurate. An ability to write a brief article on something topical (or to persuade someone else to do so!) is desirable. Everything else can be taught!

The creation of Snippets can be done at home or remotely at whatever times you choose.

With no editor, this will be the last issue of Snippets.

Journals: a rich resource

Make sure you include journals published by family history and genealogy societies in your research resources.

You never know what gems they may contain - why not take some time to browse through the various titles?

E-journals received from other family history and genealogy societies in the last few months:
